To Whom it May Concern,

I am writing this letter in support of Maria Mediannikova, an industrious, driven, and astute student, who took my college preparatory Literature and Composition course during the 2025-2026 school year.

Maria's work ethic during that school year was among the top students that I have had in recent years. She is always ready to go one step further in whatever work that is assigned, and will understand that her hard work will lead to a deeper understanding and appreciation for the opportunities that her drive can unlock. I always knew that Maria would work her hardest to get the most out of every single class period.

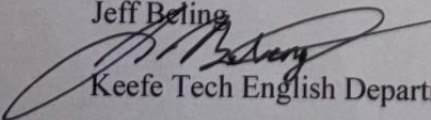

Maria's writing throughout the year impressed me with its breadth and depth of style. She is consistently able to apply rhetorical strategies and analysis to the larger, overarching themes that require a deep analysis and understanding of abstract ideas and concepts. This skill is a clear testament to her dedication to honing her craft, as well as her acumen as a student. Maria comes to class with a vision, and works incredibly hard every day to align her work as a student with a larger focus on the world as a whole. This is an invaluable skill.

Beyond the curriculum, Maria is a student that engages with the material on a higher level, and is not afraid to work with the instructor to make sure that she is getting the most out of each class period.

As such, I wholeheartedly recommend her for this position.

Sincerely,

Jeff Beling
